Bruce Nash, Allan Zullo : The Fishing Hall of Shame before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Fishing Hall of Shame:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Fish tales By Johnny Heering There have been a lot of books in the Sports Hall of Shame series, so why not a Fishing Hall of Shame book. The idea is that these are funny fishing stories. Unlike the other Hall of Shame books, this one features drawings to accompany the entries, instead of photographs. I assume that this is because there aren't many photographs of the incidents described. I enjoyed the book, although not as much as some of the other Hall of Shame books. This is probably because I'm not interested in fishing.

An irreverent testament to the millions of anglers who ever hooked something they oughta notta, lost a really big one, or told a whopper Fishing is the No. 1 sport for fun—and spectacular snafus. Whether it's a pro like Ray Scott or a presidential angler like George Bush, the deck is stacked to make buffoons of the best. So cast off on an ocean of hooks, lines, and stinkers as fishing guides, charter boat captains, game wardens, and weekend fishermen spill the wacky truth about shamefully funny moments such as when:

- Ray Cockrell landed a huge bluefish and ate it—only to find out later his catch would have been a world record.
- Author Ernest Hemingway tried to shoot the shark he had just landed—but instead shot himself in the leg.
- Pro angler Gary Klein put his boat on a high-speed plane through a patch of tall weeds—and wound up in a cow pasture.
- A Colorado woman was nabbed by authorities after they discovered she had stuffed 17 illegally caught fresh trout in her underwear.
- Jim Bitter landed a bass that would have won him $50,000 in a tournament—until he accidentally dropped it over the side.
